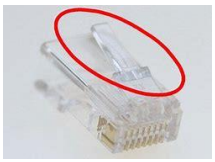
Conversant – Use your Phone System Remotely

Conversant has the benefit of allowing you to connect your phone to any internet connected network and operate as per normal.

The challenge will be getting your device connected.

If your desk phone was supplied with a power adapter you may be able to take it home with you and use remotely. You will need to unplug both the power cord and the network cable from the back of the phone and wall.

When reconnecting the phone at home you will need to connect the Internet port on the back of the phone to your Router along with the power adapter. Consider where your router is and the length of the cable you may require.



Once connected your phone will take time but connect to Conversant's Servers and work just like in the office.
